Office and Consulting Rooms at the Bangor House, Bangor, Me.

Separate Waiting Rooms for Ladies.

In presenting this notice to the public, I respectfully ask those into whose hands it may fall to give it their careful consideration. During eleven years a large and successful practice in Chronic Diseases has many times been established, and I am confident that I am able to prescribe at such a moderate rate that all may apply, are calculated to produce the most satisfactory results. I cordially invite all who may be within reach, no matter what the difficulty, to call upon me, and I will most cheerfully tell them if they have any chance for cure, what it is likely to cost, and the exact or part address, free of charge. Charges for treatment Moderate. No Fee Taxed for Mail Prices.

CATARRH

CATARRH

In its worse forms, and diseases that are caused by Catarrh, such as Deafness, Weak Eyes, Hacking Cough, Sore Throat, Pain in Head, Bronchitis, Constant Clearing of Throat.

All of which leads to hasty consumption, can positively cured by DR. NICHOLLS.

Over two-half of the persons troubled with Catarrh have an offensive breath, which is very disagreeable and offending to those with whom they come into close contact. Dr. Nicholls removes the bad breath in three treatments.

Symptoms of Catarrh.

Constant clear nelish to clear the throat, hacking cough, dimness of sight, pain over the eyes, pain in one or both temples, roaring in ears, pain in the back of the head, nose stopped up, sick stomach, dizziness, poor digestion, no appetite for breakfast, you feel a general despondency, imagining you have dyspepsia, your trouble, Kidney disease, and you spend your hard earned money with your physicians and get no better, and are advised to change climates and in the matter of a very short time you are a confirmed invalid.

Now, reader, why is this? We will tell you. Catarrh is an ulcer formed in the posterior nerves just above the uvula, its passage between the nose and throat; the ulcer continues to eat and discharge a pale mass flow at pus, running down the throat into the stomach and lungs. This my friend, is what causes the constant clearing of throat. Can you wonder why you do not have health with such a loathsome matter constantly running into your stomach? The remedy is applied directly to the ulcer, cleanses and heals in a few applications. The treatment is very simple and harmless.

Diseases of Women; Female Weakness, Debility and all Diseases of Liver and Kidneys, successfully treated, and a permanent Cure guaranteed in each case. Dr. Nicholls will guarantee a Permanent Cure in each and every case he undertakes to cure of the following diseases, and if your case is not curable, he will frankly tell you so. Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Epilepsy, Cancer, Goitre, (Big Neck) Diseases of the Throat, Lungs and Nerves, Nervous and General Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bowels, Heart Diseases, Falling of the Womb, Prolapsus, Ulcers, Barrenness, Bronchitis, Consumption, Asthma, Nicht Sweats, Piles, Fistula, and all diseases of the lower Bowels. Also, private special and nervous diseases of the Urinary and Sexual Organs.

YOUNG MEN who have been victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted and brilliant intellect, can now call with confidence.

WAS HE MURDERED?

Mysterious Death of an Ex-Sheriff and Farmer.

Savage Events Chilled to Kind.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 25. Perley W. Rich, aged fifty-five ex-sheriff and farmer living alone in West Boscawen, was found dead in his house by the neighbors this morning. His body was frozen, but contained the marks of violence that other evidence of foul play. He was last seen alive Tuesday. His cattle and sheep were found frozen to death in the barn.

Death place twenty years ago Rich lived with his brother and the latter's wife. At that time Mrs. Rich was found dead and there were indications of her having been burned to death. Suspicion attached to her husband disappeared, since with this nothing has been heard of him. It is supposed that he was murdered and it is thought that his body was secreted about the farm or in the immediate neighborhood and would ultimately be discovered. Search was made for but no trace was ever found.

A singular fact in connection with Mrs. Rich's death and her husband's disappearance is that although it is left some property he claimed he was prosperous for he would think the man who disappeared so mysteriously leaving all else.

There are so many peculiar things connected with Perley W. Rich's death that the authorities have decided to hold an investigation at the house of the deceased this afternoon. Coroner officers have gone to assist in the inquiry.

Ex-Governor of Louisiana Denounces the Scheme

For the Transportation of Colored People.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 25. William Pitt Kellogg, who was Governor of Louisiana during the reconstruction period, says that Senator Butler's scheme for the transportation of colored people to Africa is not only impracticable but offensive to Christian civilization and in violation of the constitutional right of citizenship. He would like to see the leading newspapers of the South follow the stand taken by the News and Courier against the hostilities recently manifested toward the colored people in some portions of the South and address themselves to securing additional educational facilities for the negroes. In this way the antagonism between the two races would be obliterated.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Business Has a Move Favorable Appearance.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25. In the weekly review of trade R. G. Dun & Co. say: Business has a decidedly more favorable appearance. The colder weather has brought a general increase of activity and improvement in collections. The heavy disbursements by the Treasury for bonds have also brought an easier money market and several troublesome labor controversies have been adjusted. Speculation is still restricted and moderate in volume, while payments through the banks show a steady increase over last year's record. These are comparatively small at the chief cities but exceed twelve per cent at other points.

MURDER WILL OUT.

Safe Burglar Arrested for Operations in Worcester.

The Ice Breaking society of Brewer have had a meeting and decided not to move into the vestry of their handsome new church until it is ready to be decorated, preferring to remain in their old chapel until all is ready. Work is progressing as rapidly as possible and it is only a question of a few weeks now, before the church will be ready for use. The chandelier, which are to be of golden brass, will be very handsome and are now in the hands of the upholsterer, while the contract for the carpets has been awarded to C. E. Lyon & Co., who were the successful bidders who made the lowest offer of any of the sisters [illegible] were obtained for the contract.

The Ice Season Commences. The ice has at last reached a thickness which warrants the dealers in beginning operations. Saturday morning all the companies were engaged in scraping and planing preparation for the cutting, which it is expected will commence to-day. The ice, as has so often been said, presented a very appearance Saturday, but the scrape to-day if the wind or permits, will be one of the best [illegible] the ice being covered with snow and frozen engaged in planing, scraping, cutting and housing the ice which was about three inches thick, [illegible] There will probably be work for all the men who are not afraid of using energy from now until the season for housing closes, as there are so many firms going to put up ice this year and those which have put it formerly are enlarging the capacity of their houses in expectation of a big demand the coming season. It is expected that more ice will be shipped from this river the coming summer than ever before.

Bound for the State Prison. Foreman Adams, of the carriage shop at the State Prison, was in the city Friday night and placed in the jail for safe keeping a young man by the name of Rodney Emery of Machiasport, whom he was taking to Thomaston to serve out a sentence of two years and a half for breaking and entering. Emery is a young man about eighteen years old and claims that he was led into the act by older villains, who got off free and left him to take the consequences alone. He is said to have been shipped by a gentleman of means, who did everything possible to make him contented and happy, but he fell into bad company and went from bad to worse until he now has brought himself to the prison cell, where it is hoped he may learn what this lesson that "the way of the transgressor is hard," and may resolve that when once he gets out again, a free man, he may lead quiet, peaceful and begin life anew, honestly. He'd such a young man that it is to be hoped that he will see the folly of the downward road before it is too late. Mr. Adams left for Thomaston with him Saturday afternoon.

STATE NEWS.

Bucksport.

Two boys, aged nine years, got drunken near Lead mills above the town-house owned by B. D. Meaghher at Lamoine, and left it in ruins. The fire was discovered by the neighbors quite soon after the work of destruction was done by the cook-house, but the flames had completely subdued. The parents of both boys are said to have repaid the Ellsworth gentleman.

The Ellsworth American says a crippled boy, Willie, belonging to Thomas and Mary Joy, of Winter Harbor, Goulds boro, fell from [illegible] ago while playing both of his arms.

What is the reason that the Bar Harbor hotels don't have more visitors? The Record thinks it is because they do not work for them in the right way. It says an impression is abroad that it costs too much to go to Bar Harbor, that the table set by the hotels is poor and that there is nothing to see. [illegible] that is apparent. [illegible] are charging the capacity of their houses in expectation of a big summer the coming season. It is expected that more ice will be shipped from this river the coming summer than ever before.

MONDAY, JANUARY 27, 1890.

The customs administrative bill passed House Saturday by a vote of 138 to 121.

Nellie Bly beats the record in her trip around the globe. She can travel even faster than the circulation of the New York World which originated the trip.

The Boston Globe coolly remarks that the removal of Collector Worthington by President Cleveland does not constitute any precedent for the removal of Collector Soltanstall. One Boston contemporary is not lacking in what the boys call cheek.

Senator Ingalls on Friday received a visit from a delegation of Louisiana Republicans, who presented to him a resolution adopted at a meeting held that morning, thanking the Senator for "the able and patriotic speech" delivered by him in the Senate. Senator Ingalls responded briefly. He said that he could not have been so patient as the negroes of Louisiana had been. He urged them to continue to be patient, and added that, with patience, he felt sure they would win.

The canvass made by the Lewiston Journal to ascertain what Maine has done in the past year in the way of industrial progress shows that the State has made a good record. Over two hundred new enterprises have been inaugurated, in which the capital invested amounts to nearly $4,000,000, and which give employment to over five thousand additional workers. Maine offers a good field for investment and if the experiment of setting the wheels in operation here instead of sending capital out of the State to sink in the innumerable schemes in the West, the Pine Tree State will prove worthy of the confidence.

The special despatch which we publish from Washington this morning will be read with interest in this State. Congressman Boutelle had an interview with Secretary Tracy, Saturday, relative to the bids for the two one thousand ton steel gunboats. The New England Ship Building Company, of Bath, was the lowest bidder with the single exception of a company in New Jersey. As this company is not believed to be equipped for the construction of these vessels it is probable that this contract will be awarded to the Bath Company. This means the inauguration of steel ship building in Maine if Bath secures the contract, and it would seem that under the existing circumstances sound business judgment would give the work to the Bath Company, where it is sure to be well done.

The New York Sun does not place much faith in ex-President Cleveland's declaration that he would prefer to have another man lead the party in the next campaign. It says:

"There is not an intelligent citizen who doesn't know that the Hon. Grover Cleveland is working already to accomplish that result with all the industry and all the political sagacity which his fixed purpose has at command. Every public appearance of his, every word spoken within half a mile of a reporter's ear, every letter written with a view to publication, every professional, political or social move, is shaped solely by that ambition and to that end. There is not an intelligent citizen of the United States to-day, whether he is friendly or hostile to Mr. Cleveland's aspirations, who does not know that deliberated vandalism of 1888 would give ten years of his life or ten times ten pounds of his fat to get back to the White House in 1893."

A Washington telegraph says: There are indications that it is the purpose of the Republicans of the House to act upon some of the contested election cases before the adoption of the new rules. At all events a summons has been sent out to all Republicans to be certain to be in their seats on Wednesday next, and it is understood that the purpose is that the Republicans may be able to proceed with an election case. The Democrats will unquestionably attempt to filibuster even under the system of rules which Speaker Reed will recognize as a part of parliamentary law; but they can not carry that sort of filibustering very far. The Speaker has ruled that he will recognize an appeal from his decision, and a demand for a roll call upon the appeal. It will be possible for the Democrats to avail themselves of this ruling to resort to dilatory movements to a considerable extent; but judging from the attitude of the Speaker thus far he will be able to cut the gordian knot.

The veil of obscurity is likely to be lifted from the methods employed by C. S. Brice in the recent Ohio Senatorial canvass. J. H. Thomas, one of the defeated candidates, has made the direct charge that Michael J. Eggerman, Representative from Hardin county, accepted money from him to conduct his campaign, under a promise that his vote for United States Senator would be given to the contributor. Eggerman afterward received money from Brice and voted for the latter on the first and second ballots in the caucus. It is said that other members are in the same predicament as Eggerman. Mr. Thomas' promise to give a list of the names of those who betrayed him has caused great uneasiness on the part of the Democratic majority as they feel an investigation will reveal a more corrupt condition of affairs than that following the inquiries six years ago, when Mr. Payne was elected to the Senate. The Republicans expected Eggerman, who protests his innocence, to rise in his place in the House and demand an investigation, but he preferred to remain silent. The charge comes so direct that it is believed to be impossible for him to stave off an investigation. A resolution to appoint a committee to make inquiry into the charges against the member from Hardin will be offered from the Republican side within a day or two.

Better than a Fence.

If something could be done to stop drinking in Bangor or to fence some of the Maine Central tracks and approaches to the Kenduskeag stream wharves, our death rate in Bangor would be very materially reduced.

The above extract from the Bangor letter in the Boston Globe affords the opportunity of doing something to reduce the death rate for which Globe is responsible. Instead of building fences a better and more effective method would be to prevent people from walking on the railroad tracks without any regard for the dangers that lurk in their paths. If they come to their death under the wheels of a train, or in the stream, the only thing it does is that there is one man less to contribute to his ill-gotten gains. Close the saloons and the death rate will be reduced.

Suggestive Figures.

The advocate of the saloon evidently finds that THE WHIG's clear exposure of its utter lawlessness is a difficult question to meet, hence it adopts its customary course of dodging the issue. The cave with which it avoids any reference to the fact that the majority for the Constitutional amendment in this city in 1884 was 572, is an amusing conflict with all previous assertions that the law is not sustained by public sentiment. One of the arguments that is offered by the opponents of the law in explanation of this majority is the allegation that the rumsellers rallied to a man for the amendment. The reason assigned is that the rumsellers had rather conduct their traffic in violation of the prohibitory law than pay a license, and consequently voted to put prohibition into the Constitution so as to remove the question of a repeal of the law as far as possible. It will require but a brief examination of the returns of that election to show the absurdity of this theory. The following figures will be found instructive:

	Roble.	Redman.	Yes.	No.
Ward 1,	139	360	109	314
2,	245	329	137	325
3,	272	186	369	128
4,	257	139	326	70
5,	326	153	261	98
6,	316	168	220	160
7,	367	327	345	79
	2,183	1,664	1,719	1,146

It will thus be seen that this theory about the opponents of the prohibitory law rallying for the amendments has no foundation in fact. In Ward One, a Democratic stronghold, Gov. Roble had thirty-nine more votes than were thrown for the amendment, while the "No" vote only fell of 46 from the vote given the Democratic candidate for Governor. There is only a difference of 63 in the total falling off in a comparison of the Republican and "Yes" vote and the Democratic and "No" vote. These figures very effectually dispose of one of the stock-in-trade arguments of the opponents of the law. In 1884 the people of this city, despite the fact that there was a strong prevailing opinion that the amendment was not necessary, endorsed prohibition by a majority of 572, at the same time giving Gov. Roble a majority of 548 over his Democratic competitor. Now the saloon advocate wants us to believe that public sentiment is in favor of a practically unrestricted liquor traffic. Such an assertion is a libel upon the people. These figures prove it. The law ought to be enforced and public sentiment will sustain the officials in ridding the city of the saloons, which are a curse to the community. Even their champion can say nothing in the credit of the traffic. Its blighting effects are felt in many homes which would be happier and better provided with the necessaries of life if this terrible evil was suppressed.

The question of the rum organ wanting to know why THE WHIG has not supported its Third party is too silly to require much attention. THE WHIG is a Republican paper and the Republican party is the party of temperance and good order. The Third party is simply a "bolt" of the Democratic party and is largely responsible for the condition of affairs in this city, having by its mistaken course both here and in the country at large retarded the progress of temperance sentiment.

EXAMPLE

Of a Policy in the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co.

Whole Life Twenty Premium Policy, $10,000; Age, 35; Premium, $236.20.

At the end of twenty years it becomes a paid-up policy for $10,000, leaving in force annual policies; or it may be surrendered for cash at the end of 10 years, for $2,390; 15 years, $4,050; 20 years, $5,920; 25 years, $8,070; 30 years, $7,120, etc.

N. B. Dividends are not included in the above cash surrender values, but are declared annually, and may be used in reduction of annual payments, or if allowed to remain with the Company to accumulate at compound interest and drawn at any time when desired.

ADVANTAGES.

Compared with "Free Tontine," its advantages are:

1st. The holder of one of the Connecticut Mutual Policies is GUARANTEED a larger amount than the holder of a Tontine. See the following comparison:

Age 35, Amount $10,000, Annual Life Policy.

Premiums, 20 years	$4,724 00
Cash Surrender value	2,390 00
Cost	$2,334 00
Age 35, Amt. $10,000, annual life, 5-year Tontine period	$4,220 00
Premiums, 20 years	5,620 00
Cash Guarantee	2,000 00
Cost	$3,620 00
Difference in favor of Connecticut Mutual	$286 00

2d. There is no room for disappointment to the policy holder under the new contract of the Connecticut Mutual. The results of Tontine are left largely to the imagination of the insured. That is to say, it is no danger of losing the surplus. In Free Tontine, the insurer loses the surplus if he dies or lapses.

This form of insurance which provides for an annual dividend of surplus, is to all appearances the most desirable.
